

ARMY OneSource

AOS Users:

Exciting times are ahead for the Army OneSource web system. Effective 1 October, AOS will begin to migrate to the virtual cloud!

Georgia Tech will commence the migration process as well as manage the current operations of the overall system. Although these efforts will be transparent to you, as users, we wanted you to be aware of the forward movement we are making to enhance your user experience. As always, please use the standard customer support channels to contact us with your questions, concerns, compliments and recommendations. And, to keep you abreast, we will release additional information to you periodically along the way.

Best regards,
